Center News

Fall fun will be happening at Head Start this month. The children will be taking a field trip to the pumpkin patch to choose their pumpkin to take home. The field trip will be used to help the children learn about community and explore nature. There will also be pumpkins in the classroom for experiments to help promote learning about science, nature, and math. The children will also be learning about personal safety this month. Make sure your child is attending school everyday possible to achieve educational success.
